On the Side.

Those public-spirited citizens who so generously guarantee our "Three Joyous Days" every August, and who are now making up a slight deficiency, will be pleased to know that the guarantors of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, last season, had a deficit of $131,000 to meet.

If men would worry more about the home brood and less about the home browed, says an exchange, the world would be better off.

Ole Bill says a feller can't tell by the noises now, whether yer neighbor's threshing or whether it's only an airplane going by.

Altho this is the off-season for a regular circus or a trained-animal show, a very good exhibition was given one day last week, when a horse attached to a buggy with an occupant, came down 3d St., turned Mike Ducholke's corner on to Main, walked down Main a block, and turned over to the hitch rail at Oppertshausers; while the driver reposed on the seat, with a list to starboard, dreaming The Beautiful Dreams.

If the laboring class would take a reduction in wages with as good grace as farmers have taken from 50 to 75 per cent reduction in the price of the bulk of the products they have to sell, there would be less strife and everybody would be better off a year hence.

George Is Sore.

George Munro of Telfordville is sore at someone at Wahamun. George advertised two sorrel horses strayed and named the brands. George received word that the horses were at Wahamun. George had a long day's drive from Telfordville, across the river, to Wahamun, and on his arrival there George was shown a team of horses (one black) with totally different brands on them.

Marriage Licenses.

A change has been made in the regulations governing the issuance of marriage licenses. In the cities the privilege was taken from the jewellers last month, and will be issued at only one place—the Vital Statistics office. Where the contracting parties are not personally known to the issuer, the bride shall be required to take an affidavit as to her age.

The next time you require one, get it in Stony.

Correcting the Corrections.

"We wish to apologize for the manner in which we disgraced the beautiful wedding last week," says The Ransoon (Kan.) Record. "Thru an error of the typesetter we were made to say 'the roses were punk.' What we should have said was, 'the noses were pink.'"

Does It Pay The Farmer To Hold His Wheat

The question which constitutes the heading of this article has been asked and debated thousands of times and it still remains a moot question in the minds of many people. Commissioners have investigated the grain marketing problem in practically all the great wheat growing countries of the world, and in this connection due consideration has been given to the effect on prices of the early marketing of the bulk of the wheat crop immediately following harvest. The prevailing opinion in the minds of most people has undoubtedly been that those farmers who, from forces of circumstances, were compelled to market their wheat at "market" were the losers thereby, while the man who could afford to hold it and watch the market stood to gain.

Practical and experienced farmers have become not only critical but rather resentful of writers in newspapers who essay the task of advising them what to do and what not to do. With chair farmers—like arm chair military strategists, are not popular, do they carry much weight, and possibly rightly so when they attempt to deal with practical farming problems. But in the matter of the marketing of wheat, men who never plowed a furrow or sowed an acre in their lives, but who have studied the question of marketing, the fluctuations of prices, and the harvest seasons around the world, are well qualified to speak in reply to the question at the head of this article. They are certainly in just as good a position to express an opinion in regard to it as any practical farmer, and possibly in a much better position to do so intelligently.

Of course, no hard and fast rule can be laid down because conditions vary from one year to another and circumstances arise beyond the control of mere mortals which upset any and all calculations and defy previous experience. For example, the man who sold wheat immediately following the outbreak of war in 1914 was the loser by so doing. It is, therefore, only possible to arrive at an intelligent answer to the question whether it pays the farmer to hold his wheat after harvest by taking the average run of prices over a period of normal years.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis has recently issued a set of most interesting charts, one of which seeks to throw some light on the question. One pair of charts shows the variations in prices on the Chicago and Minneapolis markets covering the 46-year period from 1876 to 1920; another shows the monthly range of cash wheat prices in Minneapolis during the last ten years; and a fourth chart, dealing with the normal year-wise of 1908 to 1919, shows whether a farmer stood to gain or lose by holding or selling his wheat as indicated by the Chicago prices which prevailed from month to month throughout this ten-year period.

Taking the August price in each year as a basis, the chart in question shows the fluctuations in price above or below the August price in the succeeding months until August again came round. The chart reveals the amazing fact that in only 25 months out of the 120 in this ten-year period would it have paid the farmer to hold his wheat as compared with selling at the August price. In other words, in 95 months out of the 120 there was a loss by selling wheat at the August price. On the average, the average every month showed a loss, and these losses vary from about five cents to fourteen cents a bushel. It is further pointed out that if September prices, instead of August, had been selected as the basis for making the comparison the conclusions would not be changed.

This highly interesting chart, based as it is on authoritative figures from official records, shows that by selling in September instead of August throughout these ten years the farmer would have substituted an average loss of 5.1 cents per bushel; selling in October instead of August his average loss would have been 7.2 cents per bushel; selling in November the loss would have been 12.5 cents; in December 13 cents; in January 13.8 cents; in February 12.5 cents; in March 13.5 cents; in April 14.1 cents; in May 12.7 cents; in June 10.7 cents; and in July 8.1 cents.

In arriving at these figures, allowance has, of course, been made for the cost of storage, shrinkage in weight, and interest charges, but a farmer holding his wheat must pay all these, and he cannot, therefore, merely compare actual market prices at the time of harvest with the price quoted three or six months later.

Selling promptly in the fall of every year appears, therefore, to yield the farmer the best average price, judging by the experience of these ten normal pre-war years. In some years, of course, he would gain by holding his wheat, but these are the exceptional years and not the rule. In fact, his chances of loss through holding instead of prompt selling in the fall appear to be about four to one.

Why does a corporation sometimes wait until there is nothing to receive before asking for a receiver?

Small Potato Crop.

The small potato crop in the district around Hamilton, Ont., is reported by producers to have failed. Saskatchewan will have some potatoes for sale, and even at present freight rates could be sold for considerably less than $9 per ton, which some of the Hamilton producers anticipate will be the price before snow falls.

MUCH ILL-HEALTH DUE TO BAD BLOOD

If the Blood is Kept Rich and Red You Will Enjoy Health.

More disturbances to health is caused by weak, poor quality blood than people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nervous system suffers from lack of nourishment and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatitis. Muscles subject to strain are enervated and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills have a special action on the blood and as it becomes enriched your health improves. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is proved by the experience of Mr. D. J. McDonald, North River Bridge, N.S., who says: "For some years I suffered severely with headaches, pains in the back and a run-down condition. At times the pain in my back would be so bad that I would sit up in bed all night. From time to time doctors were treating me, but did not give me more than temporary relief. And then one day when I was suffering terribly a neighbor came to me and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking two boxes I felt better. I got five boxes more and before they were all gone I felt as though they were giving me new life. In every way they built up and improved my health and strength. I am now working as a baker in a pulp mill, ten hours a day and feeling fine. I say with pleasure that this condition is due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 5 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

QUALITY AND SERVICE

Notice to Parents!

To secure the best results in the school here and help the children as much as possible, I wish to bring before the parents the fact that, this year, a monthly report card will be issued to each child. These cards must be taken home and signed by the parent before they are returned. This is being done so that those who have children attending school may know just how their boy or girl is progressing. The cards are very simple to understand, and a short study of your child's report will tell you just how his or her standing is in the class. The careful attention of the parents to these reports and their co-operation is asked in order that the child may progress as rapidly as possible. If there is any point you do not understand, kindly bring it to the Principal, and an effort will be made to clear the matter up. Make the school an individual thing. Parents, your children's welfare depends to a large extent on your co-operation with the school teachers.

C. E. CLARKE,
Principal Stony Plain Consolidated School.

The Government's Good Work

The Better Highways slogan is gaining headway in Alberta by leaps and bounds, and from assurances given by the Highways Division of the Public Works Dept., there is every indication that a big fall's work will be put in on the various roads, and the highway west from Stony will be put in good shape for a number of miles before the freeze-up.

The offer made by Stony Plain was accepted by the Department, and the Government and town co-operated on a fifty-fifty basis in putting the Fifth Meridian Road in first-class shape.

Definite assurances have also been given that a cut-off will be built on the Wabamun trail, a mile and a half east of the Carvel road, where several accidents have occurred recently. If this piece of work is carried out, it will eliminate five sharp turns.

The bad stretch of road near Gainford will also receive some attention and be considerably bettered.

In addition to the above, the Department has intimated that the grade from Evansburg to Lobstick, on the Jasper Highway will be commenced either this fall or early in the Spring.

THE OPTIMIST.

Tune—"Turkey in the Straw."

Oh, his horse went dead and his mule went lame,
And he lost his 'rop feedin' game;
Then a hurricane came along one day
And blew the house where he lived away.
An earthquake came along when that was gone,
And swallowed up the land that the house stood on;
The tax collector then came around
And charged him up with a hole in the ground.

Chorus—Hole in the ground—Te-he-he!
Was he discouraged? No siree!
He joined the U. F. A. and the spell went down,
And now he's the mascot of the townships around.

Oh, the weather's gettin' colder and the hens won't lay;
Barley's 'way down and wheat don't pay;
Hogs no better; steers too cheap;
Cows quit milkin' and the meat won't keep.
Oats all heated; spuds all froze;
Fruit crops busted; wind still blows;
Sheep seem puny; and I'll be darned,
The rye field's flooded and the hay stack burned.

Chorus—Hay stack's burned; Te-he-he!
Was he discouraged? No siree!
He jumped right in and pulled with the bunch;
And now he's glad that he got the hunch.

Yes, the farmer must, if he would succeed,
Join with the others in this time of need,
To work out a plan of "work and grin"
In this game of life so we all can win
A place in the sun with all white folks,
Where honest toil wins him more than jokes.
Let's stand together in a steadfast way
And fight it out, thru the U. F. A.

Chorus—Hole in the ground! No siree!
Not yet, neighbor! Not for me!
So come along with me, I say,
To the next regular meetin' of the U. F. A.

Six Questions.

Why gamble?
Does anyone know of a farmer who made money by holding his 1920 crop?
How many farmers sold oats this spring around two-bits, when they could have got around four-bits a bushel last fall?
On Sept. 23, 1920, was the local price on 2 C. W. oats 58 cents?
On May 10, 1921, was the highest local price paid for 2 C. W. oats 24 cents?
Do you intend to hold your 1921 crop?

Bill Might Get Off.

In connection with the Trautman case, recently tried in Edmonton, W. R. Howson, his counsel, intimated that he might appeal the case on the grounds of defective wording of the Information. The Information as worded charges the accused with having in his possession a "mash" for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor, whereas the whole of the Act, the word does not occur, the word "wash" being used to indicate the crude liquor from which the alcohol is eventually obtained.

CHAPTER VIII.
Into The Night.

Harris and Allan drove straight to the engine, never looking back to see what became of the good man. On the way the farmer explained to his son what had taken place; that words had passed between them, but no blows had been struck until Allan appeared on the scene.

"Well, if that's the way of it, I'm sorry Phil him," said the young man, frankly. "When I see him I'll tell him so. I blushed him a good one, didn't I?—though, to be honest, he was hardly on his feet. But he sure landed me a stem-winder on the thigh," he continued, ruefully rubbing that member, "so I guess we're about even."

"He might 've broke your neck," said Harris. "You're too hot-headed, both of you. I can't make out what got into Jim, that he wouldn't answer a civil question. Jim was a good man, too." Perhaps the disturbing suggestion entered Harris's mind that the question had been none too civil, and he was really beginning to feel that after all Jim might be the aggrieved party. But he crushed down such mental solution promptly. "It don't matter how good a man he was," he declared, "as long as I pay the piper I'm goid to call the tune."

"It puts us up against it for a water-man, though," says Allan, thoughtfully.

"So it does," admitted Harris, who up to that moment had not reflected that his hasty action in dismissing Travers would result in much more delay than anything else that had occurred. "Well, we'll have to get somebody else. We'll manage till noon, and then ride over to Grant's or Morrison's. They'll be able to lend a man or one of the boys for a day or two." It was significant that although Harris was making a considerable venture with Riles, when he walked a favour, at least he attractively turned to his other neighbors, Grant and Morrison.

"At noon Jim's chair was vacant, and the family sat down to dinner amid a depressing silence. No mention was made of the morning's incident until the meal was well advanced, when Harris, feeling that he ought in some way to introduce the subject, said: 'Is Jim gone?'

"Yes, he's gone," blazed Beulah. "You don't expect he'd wait to kiss you good-bye, did you?"

"Ong in the family is enough for that treatment," put in Allan, whose swollen chin and stiff neck biased him against Travers.

"He didn't, either. And if he did it's none of your business, you lie down," she looked her brother straight in the face, her swollen eyes telling their own story, and repeated deliberately, "you big coward."

Allan bit his lip.

"You're about the only person, Beulah, that could say that and get off with whole skin. I suppose he told you I hit him before he was on his feet."

"Well, he didn't. He didn't say you hit him at all, but he couldn't deny it, so we knew the truth. And we knew you must have taken some mean advantage, or you'd never have got near enough to leave a mark on him."

"Jim's quite a hero, all right. It's too bad he's gone." "It's a good job he's gone," said Harris. "By the way Beulah, things have gone far enough. I don't want my daughter marrying a farmer." Her grandmother's daughter did, said Mary Harris.

"Yes, I know, but things are different now. I look for something better for Beulah."

It was characteristic of Harris, as of thousands of others, that, although a farmer himself, he looked for "something better" for his daughter. He was resigned to Allan being a farmer; his intimate, daily relationship with his son shrank from any possibility of separation. But for his daughter—no. He had mapped out no career for her; she might marry a doctor, lawyer, merchant, tradesman, even a milliner, but not a farmer. It is a peculiarity of the agriculturist that, among all professions, he holds his own in the worst repute. As a class he has educated himself to believe that everybody else makes an easy living off the farmer, and much as he may revile the present generation for doing so, he is anxious that his children should join in the good picking. In later years had come a gradually broadening conception that farming, after all, calls for brains as well as muscle, and that the man who can wrestle a successful living from Nature has as much right to hold up his head in the world as the expert miner in medicine or the lawyer playing blind-peek with Justice through the cracks in the Criminal Code. Herein is a germ of the cityward migration: the farmer himself is looking for "something better" for his children.

"Jim was a good man," persisted Harris. "Don't you think you were a bit, perhaps, a little hasty with him?"

Harris sat back. It was his wife's business to agree. For twenty years and more she had been faithful in the discharge of that duty. That she should suggest an opinion of her husband with his indicated lack of discipline, not very serious, perhaps, but which, if permitted to flourish, might develop to dangerous proportions.

"So you're goin' to take his part, too? It's a strange thing if I can't handle my hired help without advice from the house."

Mary flushed at the remark. Any open quarrel with her husband, especially before the children—for she still thought of the man and woman to her left and right as "the children"—was more painful to her than any submission could have been. It would be so much easier to change the subject, to follow the line of least resistance, and forget the incident as quickly as possible. That had been her constant policy after the first few years of the married life. At first there had been troubles and difficulties, but she had gradually adjusted herself to her misdeeds, and their lives had run smoothly together because she never interrupted the current of life. But the late conviction had been coming home to her that some time, somewhere, she must make a stand. She would not allow herself to fall in line as long as only her own happiness was concerned, but if the fate of her children should be at stake, or if the justice of their dealings with others should be the issue, she would have to fight, and fight it out to a finish. And, quite unbidden, a strange surge of defiance welled in her as her husband so frankly told her to mind her own business.

"I was under the impression we were managing this farm together, you and I, John," she said, very calmly, but with a strange ring in her voice. "When we came West I understood it was to build our home. I didn't know it was just to be your home."

The look of surprise with which Harris greeted her words was absolutely genuine. A hot, stinging retort sprang to his lips, but by a sudden effort he suppressed it. His wife's challenge, quiet, unprovoked, and with evidence of unbending character behind it, in some way confused something out of the past, and he saw her again, the gray locks restored to their youthful glory and the cucumber cheek bloom with the colour of young maidenhood as they had been in the gathering shadows of the night when they swore to build their own home, and live their own lives, and love each other, always, only, by ever and anon. And yet, to let her defiance go unchecked, to have his authority challenged before his own children—it would be the beginning of dissolution, the first crumbling of collapse.

"We'll talk about that some other time, Mary," he said. "If Jim had answered my question fairly, as he had a right to, instead of beating around the bush, I might've let him off. But when I wanted to know what kept him so simply parried me, making a fool of me and rubbing it in with that infernal smile of his."

"So that's what started it?" exclaimed Beulah. "Well, I'll tell you what kept him, if he wouldn't. The cattle got into the pastures through a break in the fence, and I couldn't get them out, and the dog went k-y-l-i-n-g over the prairie after a rabbit, and just as I was beginning to— to condense over Honest Advertising.

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Honestly advertised as such, without a claim for more than its over 30 years of use have amply proven. A Baby's remedy for Babies. And not an adult's remedy for all the family and all the ails that human flesh is heir to.

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be abandoned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

If Jim came up and saved the situation. What if he did keep your old engine waiting? There are more important things than ploughing."

"Aha!" said Harris, knowingly. "Well, I guess it's just as well it happened as it did. 'Jim was gittin' all together too good at runnin' at your heels.'"

"That's all the thanks he gets for working late and early, like no other hired man in the district. All right. You and Allan can milk the cows to-night, for I won't see."

Harris was accustomed to his daughter's frankness, and as a rule paid little regard to it. He was willing enough to be flayed, in moderation, by her keen tongue; in fact, he took a secret delight in her unreserved sallies, but that was different from defiance. He could, and did, submit to any amount of cutting repartee, and felt a sort of pride in her vigour and rockiness, but he had no notion of countenancing open mutiny, even from Beulah.

"We'll talk about that some other time, you," he said. "And you'll milk the cows to-night as usual."

Beulah opened her lips as though to answer, but closed them again, and walked out of the kitchen. For her the controversy was over; the die was cast. Her nature admitted of any amount of disposition up to a certain point, but when the irresistible force crashed into the immovable object she wasted no wild on words. With her war was over. (To be continued)

Says Germany Must Go To Reparations Limit

Munich.—"We must go to the limit of our capacity with regard to reparations," Dr. Walter Rathenau, the German minister of reconstruction, declared before the congress of the Imperial Association of German Trades. "Complete fulfillment of the terms of the ultimatum will affect the world economically more severely than ourselves. Britain has three million and the United States six million unemployed. The more Germany must work the more the others cease working. What is needed is an international economic understanding."

The minister approved Winston Churchill's suggestion of cooperation as outlined in his Dundee speech and said with regard to France:

"We must give goods; the promise is to substitute products for gold. We are to have a further conference with France regarding arrangements for deliveries of gold marks to the amount of seven billion in the course of four and a half years."

Munich and Berlin Settle Dispute

Responsibility of Suppression of Newspapers Caused Contention.

Munich.—An agreement reached at Berlin on Sept. 24 between representatives of the Bavarian and the Central German Government has been adopted by the constitutional committee of the Bavarian Diet. This agreement is intended to effect an adjustment of the controversy which has been raging between Munich and Berlin for some time.

One of its provisions makes the authorities of individual German States responsible for the suppression, or suppression of newspapers. This was one of the principal causes of contention between the two Governments.

Refugees in Petrograd.
Riga.—Approximately 150,000 refugees from the famine districts of Russia now are in Petrograd, says a wireless message received here. Work has been found for only 5,000 of these refugees, the wireless adds.

CHOLERA INFANTUM THE FATAL DISEASE OF CHILDREN

Mothers should look well after their young ones during the hot summer months as this is the time of year when this summer complaint is most prevalent. It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, the stomach becomes irritated, vomiting and purging set in, and the mother often notices that her child has a bilious appearance; the child rapidly loses flesh and is soon reduced to great languor and prostration which in a great many cases terminates fatally.

To quickly effect the vomiting purging and diarrhoea

The Empire's Effort—And Sacrifice

One Man in Every Ten Laid Down Life in Great War.

From a return lately printed for the House of Commons, and published in the official Parliamentary report of May 5, we are now fully able to realize the magnitude of the effort made by the British Empire during the European war and how heavy was the sacrifice demanded of those who helped by land and sea in gaining the victory at the end of the long struggle. The total numbers of our sea and land forces that served during the war amounted to the huge total of some, thing over nine millions of men; of these nine millions—nine millions, be it remembered, of the very pick of the Empire—no fewer than one man out of every ten laid down his life, having been killed in action, died of wounds, or died from disease due in some measure to the war. One man in every four was wounded, and one man out of every three became a casualty in one way or another—whether by death in action, from wounds or from disease, or by being wounded and taken prisoner. This is surely a very terrible proportion, and shows how and to what a dreadful extent the modern wars of nations have increased the casualties among those taking part in them, while the sacrifice also falls most heavily upon the very pick of the manhood of the opposing peoples.

Miller's Worm Powders are complete in themselves. They not only drive worms from the system, but repair the damage that worms cause and so invigorate the constitution that speedily recovers from the disorders of the digestion that are the result of the work of these parasitic invaders. They do their work thoroughly and strength and soundness follow their use.

Lower Grain Rates From Montreal.
Montreal.—At a meeting of the various shipping lines of Montreal it was decided to make a reduction of ten per cent. in the existing freight rates for grain being shipped from this port to points in the United Kingdom. This reduction comes, it is said, as the result of the scarcity of package freight.

Stop the Cough.—Coughing is caused by irritation in the respiratory passages and is the effort to dislodge obstructions that come from inflammation of the mucous membrane. Treatment with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will allay the inflammation and in consequence the cough will cease. Try it and you will be satisfied.

Urges-Aiding Austria

Hon. A. J. Balfour Appeals to All Countries For Help.

Geneva.—Speaking in the assembly of the League of Nations on a resolution expressing the regret of the assembly that the reconstruction of Austria's finances had been delayed for a reason it was hoped would shortly be removed, Right Hon. A. J. Balfour said the Allies had done all they could for the restoration of Austria. All of them had released their allies to that end, he recalled, and he hoped that the Austrian people would not lose their courage. He appealed to all the countries, in the special interests of Europe and for the credit of civilization to do all they could to enable Austria to regain her feet.

World Record For Altitude

Airman Attained Official Height of 40,000 Feet.

Dayton, Ohio.—Lieut. John A. MacReady, test pilot at McCook Field, shattered the world's altitude record, attaining an official height of 40,000 feet in the same paper biplane used by Major Rudolph C. Schroeder, who set a record of 35,150 feet on February 28, 1920.

Lieut. MacReady was in the air one hour and forty-seven minutes, requiring all but a few minutes of the total flying time to reach his mark. At 35,000 feet, he formed on his oxygen tank but he pressed on until the anti-meter registered 41,000 feet. At this point his engine coughed and died. He then glided safely to the ground.

Typhoon in Japan Kills Hundreds.
Yokohama.—Several hundred persons have been killed by a typhoon in Central Japan, centring upon Nagoya, on the Island of Honshu, where a tidal wave destroyed crops and houses. Several steamers were sunk and many fishermen are missing.

Its Quality Sells It.—The fact that so many thousands of intelligent people continue to use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil speaks volumes for its healing efficiency. Ever since it was first introduced it has grown steadily in public favor, owing entirely to its manifold usefulness in relieving and healing sickness. As a specific for cuts, burns, scalds, and various inflammations its record is beyond reproach.

Sixty-Three Days In Open Rowboat

American Ex-Soldier and Daughter Found By Police Launch.

Washington.—Sighted by Chesapeake Bay fishermen five miles off Norfolk, Va., in an open rowboat, in which they had been cruising the waters of the bay, and the Potomac River for sixty-three days, William A. Spencer, ex-soldier, and his ten-year-old daughter, Cora Eleanor, were later located by a police launch and brought to that port after a nation-wide search for weeks, following their mysterious disappearance from this city. Finding of the father and daughter was made known at police headquarters here after notification from the Norfolk authorities.

Our slogan for the coming year should be "Buy at Home." Add to your own and your neighbor's prosperity by keeping the money circulating in our own district.

Winnipeg.—A reduction amounting to 20 per cent. on all rates over 50 cents per hundred pounds on livestock shipments from the prairie provinces to St. Paul and Chicago, has been announced here by the Canadian Pacific Railway. There is no reduction being made below 50 cents per hundred pounds. This new rate will become effective Oct. 8. The statement issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway says: In view of the fact that cattle are moving from the prairie provinces to St. Paul and Chicago, notwithstanding the Roubidoux tariff, it is reducing the rates on livestock in line with the reductions made by U.S. railways.

The following are quoted as samples of the new rate:
Moose Jaw to St. Paul 55 cents as against the present rate of 60 cents; to Chicago 77 cents against 86; Calgary and Edmonton to St. Paul, 70 1/2 against 88; to Chicago 82 as against 81 1/2.

Halifax To Improve Shipping Facilities

Board of Trade Looking for Large Cattle Shipments.

Halifax.—The Halifax Board of Trade have announced that they have taken steps toward the improvement of cattle shipping facilities at this port in anticipation of large animal shipments from Halifax to the Old Country during the coming winter.

The Board may ask the Government to have the large sheds at the new ocean terminals made ready for temporary use as cattle sheds, according to one suggestion. The first small shipment of cattle through Halifax has already been made.

French Policy Announced.

Paris.—Premier Briand will outline the position of the French Government relative to the conference on limitation of armaments in a speech at St. Nazaire on Oct. 9. On that occasion he proposes to make a declaration of ministerial policy concerning all questions of prime importance now before the country which will be laid before Parliament when it reassembles on Oct. 18.

Forbidden to Drive Car.

Moose Jaw, Sask.—Andrew Casor, who was found guilty of driving a motor car in a manner dangerous to the public, was forbidden to operate a car for six months and fined $25 in the police court here.

ASPIRIN

Only "Bayer" is Genuine

Warning! Take no chances with substitutes for genuine "Bayer" Tablets of Aspirin. Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets, you are not getting Aspirin at all. Druggists also sell large packages. Made in Canada. Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada), of Bayer Manufacture of 11 medicinal products of Salicylic acid.

Down, Never Out!

Speaking of the United States in general, says The Maryland Motor Accelerator, we see by the papers that Prohibition has improved the home life of America. Quite so. A man is never out of nights. He is home—down in the cellar. That is where the Salvation Army slogan originated: "A man may be down, but he's never out!"

Timbizzie's Bed Caught Fire.

Mr E Smith of Czar had the misfortune to lose his car recently. While crossing a bad spot in the road which was covered with straw and into which the wheels sank until the straw touched the bottom of the car, he got stuck. The exhaust, bearing on the straw, ignited it, and the fire finally gained the upper hand and resulted in the total loss of the car, which was covered by insurance.

That is What You Can Do Provided You Take Advantage of Our Offer

We have made arrangements with the E. H. Heath Co. Limited who publish the CANADIAN POWER FARMER whereby we are able to offer that farm magazine together with our own weekly at the one price for both papers.

The CANADIAN POWER FARMER is Western Canada's biggest farm monthly. It is now in its twentieth year which means that it is thoroughly established throughout the West. It deals with the mechanical side of the farm. Every issue is full of helpful hints and experiences on the operation of all kinds of farm machinery from a washing-machine to a tractor. Its editor has just completed a trip of several months over Western Canada in a motor car for the purpose of studying the mechanical needs of the farmers. He visited the farmers, lived with them and worked with them. The results of his trip will appear during the next twelve months.

This offer may be withdrawn at any time. Without doubt your intention is to renew for this weekly, then why not take advantage now. Your subscription to this weekly together with a year's subscription to THE CANADIAN POWER FARMER for the same price as you make $1.50 on a bushel of wheat.

Save the surface and you save all—Paint & Varnish

In Halifax, you may learn much about ships, but nothing more important than the value of surface protection.

Immense quantities of paint are used on ships—usually three coats all over; amounting to several dozen barrels to a ship. This expenditure for surface protection, however, is not incurred merely to make ships look well, although; naturally that is one result. The main object is to preserve all surfaces against the sea, the storms, and the sun of every climate into which ships sail.

And what is true of ships is true of every thing else. If it has a surface it needs surface protection.

If you will keep the surface of your house, your barn, your office-buildings protected with Paint and Varnish inside and out, you will keep it safe against weather and wear, almost for all time—a wonderful result for small expenditure.

Remember that wood, metal, stucco and often concrete, must have surface protection if they are to be preserved in their original strength and beauty.

Planting Sockeye Eggs

Will Aid in Restoring Run of Fraser River.

Planting sockeye eggs, much as one plants potatoes or any other vegetable, is one of the new methods in use in connection with the artificial propagation of the king of salmon. The eggs are planted under gravel. This is akin to the conditions under which the fish are hatched by nature, means and is expected to yield better results than were possible before. It is anticipated that this method will greatly aid in restoring the sockeye run of the Fraser River to a sound basis.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next cold and wet, and unless the mother is on her guard, the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly their prompt use will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

Proves Value of Irrigation.

Patricia, Alberta, is a standing testimony to the value of irrigation in Southern Alberta. Two years ago its site was unbroken prairie and its surrounding land virgin to the horizon. To-day there are twenty thousand acres under cultivation in the district directly tributary to the thriving settlement which has most civic improvements and advantages.

Health First POSTUM

"There's a Reason"

This is the start of a better day

There's a satisfying comfort and cheer in a breakfast cup of Postum, and there's no disturbing element to irritate nerves or digestion and leave mental energy lagging before the day is done.

Thousands of former tea and coffee users have found that Postum meets every demand for a delicious table beverage, and brings steadier nerves, clearer mind—better health.

As many cups as you like with any meal—no after-regrets.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Takes Electricity From Air

New Generator Consists of Wire, Iron and Minerals.

Demonstrations have been made on the streets of Denver of a new electric generator that is claimed by the inventors to take electricity from the air.

The inventors are J. E. Ammann, of Denver, and his brother, C. E. Ammann, of Spokane, Wash.

To demonstrate, the brothers borrowed an old electric auto, took out the battery and after roping their new "atmospheric generator" fast, they got in and rode off at a high speed.

"There is nothing inside the drum that moves," the contents consist only of iron, wire and minerals," says C. E. Ammann.

"It can be used to drive any electrical apparatus and can be made in any size."

The brothers are closely guarding their secret, and even take their "brain-child" when it is not in use, to their room in the Argonaut Hotel. So far the brothers have not offered to sell their proposition.

Electrical men in Denver are waiting "to be shown," but they grant the thing works.

ADVICE FOR BACKACHE

When stooping hurts, when lifting and bending causes distress that's the time to rub in lots of "Nerviline." Usually a couple of applications brings grateful relief. No liniment more soothing, more certain to kill muscular rheumatic or sciatic pains. Thousands of homes rely on good old Nerviline for cramps, colic, dysentery and external muscular pains. Large 25 cent bottle for sale everywhere.

The Impediment.

The clergyman was solemnizing the marriage of an elderly couple the other day in the fens of Lincolnshire. All went well until he required and charged them both that if they knew of any impediment why they might not be lawfully joined together in matrimony they were to confess it. "I'm all right, mister," said the bridegroom, "but Martha, she slips a bit."

Otherwise, No!

"I see by the paper that a woman can live on nine cents a day."

Boot Factory For Calgary

Financed by British interests Would Employ Over 300 Men.

If the City Council approves of tentative offers made by the commission-ers, Calgary will have a boot factory in a short time, employing more than 300 men. The concern which may go there is financed by British interests and the city commissioners have recommended that a 99-year lease, on easy terms, be granted.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric Or Gas.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 100 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 5% common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, T. V. Johnson, 595 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $200 to $500 per month.

A deputy game warden of Centreville, Md., arrested his 14-year-old son for shooting a raccoon in violation of the game law.

Only the uninformed endure the agony of corns. The knowing ones apply Holloway's Corn Remover and get relief.

Canadian Fish For Chicago Market. In less than one week twenty carloads of Alberta white fish from Lesser Slave Lake and Lac La Biche passed through Edmonton en route to the Chicago market. It is estimated that there are still eighty carloads before this season's catch in Lesser Slave Lake will all be marketed.

No Rest With Asthma. Asthma usually attacks at night, the one time when rest is needed most. Hence the loss of strength, the nervous debility, the loss of flesh and other evils which must be expected unless relief is secured. Fortunately relief is possible. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has proved its merit through years of service. A trial will surely convince you.

The first woman to be presented with the Freedom of the City of London was the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, in 1872.

Lace Trimmed Nightgown Of Crepe de Chine

By Marie Belmont

The tendencies in dresses are often reflected in other realms of apparel. The nightgown illustrated is fashioned from a rich quality of flesh-colored crepe de chine. It repeats the style tendency of the frock in the slashes that are tied at its side. These are made of double faced ribbons which show pale blue on one side and flesh on the other. The square cut décolletage is outlined with fine val lace and insertion and partly hidden under the fine mesh of the lace appears the narrow-ribbon which is tied in a dainty bow in the centre front.

Mrs. Lillian Taylor Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Baby

"Our baby was two weeks old when his face became very red and terribly itchy, and he was fairly crazy rubbing and scratching till the skin broke and bled. He could not sleep, and did nothing but cry. His face looked as though he might be disfigured for life."

"I thought I would give Cuticura Soap and Ointment a trial. I found the free sample so good that I bought more and two cases of Cuticura Soap and a fifty-cent box of Cuticura Ointment healed him." (Signed) Mrs. Lillian M. Taylor, Box 99, Bracebridge, Muskoka, Ont., Dec. 30, '18. Cuticura Soap to cleanse and purify, Cuticura Ointment to soothe and Cuticura Talcum to powder and perfume are ideal for daily toilet purposes. Soap 25c, Ointment 25c and Talc. Sold throughout the Dominion. Canadian Dispensary, Limited, 308, Paul St., Montreal. Free Cuticura Soap sample without cost.

The Perils of Neglect

Digestive ailments are frequently neglected.

People say "It's only a touch of indigestion—it will go away." What begins as simple discomfort is allowed to become a serious—chronic ailment. Never neglect the treatment of digestive derangement. The open season for Prairie Chicken does not commence until Oct. 15.

Mr H Looker of Edmonton will lecture at the Town Hall on Sunday, the 16th inst., at 3 p.m., on the subject of "The Judgment Day," a continuation of the message that "Millions now living will never die." The judgment day has long been a source of fear and dread to all mankind, but, properly understood, is a time of comfort and hope for the human race. All interested in the future should hear his lectures.

The New Wheat Pool.

Of particular interest to the West is Premier Meighen's announcement of a new grain marketing scheme. It is quite probable to meet with general approval, for it meets a need that has been expressed in many quarters.

The Voluntary Grain Pool will provide a means for the farmer to sell his crop to the best possible advantage, while still leaving him free to do his marketing otherwise if he prefers, though even if he sells outside the pool he will benefit from its existence thru the greater assurance of fair treatment.

The Prime Minister has chosen this method as a better one for the country than the re-establishment of the Wheat Board on its old basis, though the Premier admits, says the Edmonton Journal, that the latter would probably bring him more political popularity in the West.

The new grain board will be non-political and thoroughly efficient, it is asserted.

Stony Plain and District

A rehearsal was held in the Town Hall Monday night, for the big concert on the 21st.

Mr John Miller made a motor trip to Sangudo on Monday, the latter part of the trip being over the new "road" thru the brush. Hundreds of prairie chicken were seen on the way.

A convention of the teachers of the Stony Plain Inspectorate is called for Friday, October 21, and will be held in Ducholke's Hall in the afternoon. In the evening a concert will be given. This will be of a high-class order; and will be followed by a dance.

Stony Plain U. F. Local held its regular monthly meeting on Saturday night, at the office of Mr L. Zilliox.

The Board of the Methodist Church is arranging to have the edifice overhauled, moved back, put on a permanent foundation, and have a heating apparatus installed in the basement.

Mr Kelly, a pioneer of the Tomahawk district, was in town on Saturday. The crops have been good out in this district this season. A lot of settlers have cattle to sell, but don't feel like parting with their stuff at the present low market prices.

While a steam threshing outfit was working on the Wolf ranch, north of town, on Thursday last, a stack of grain became ignited, and the fire is said to have cleaned up the entire setting, the separator being got out with some difficulty.

The Featherdowne Operatic Troupe will shortly announce its opening engagement at "Stony Plain Opera House."

A well-patronised dance was held at the Keep Hills Schoolhouse on Friday night last.

Threshing is about completed in the Carrol district, and threshers report a high average per acre on a number of the farms.

Rally Sunday.

"Rally Sunday" was celebrated last Sabbath at the local Methodist Church, at the evening service. The entire Sunday School took part, and the pupils acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner. Rev F E Wilson was in charge, and was assisted by Mr W E Hainsworth, who delivered a very able discourse on work in connection with the Sunday School.

Dennis Before the Bench.

Dennis Maisenko was up, on remand, in the Police Court, in Edmonton, on Tuesday last. Pete Sladkoff, the man who was shot on the night of Sept. 18, on the farm at Glory Hills, was able to appear in court. Evidence was taken, among the witnesses being Dr Jones of Stony Plain, who attended the wounded man the night of the shooting. Several of those in the district who were interested in the case, were present in court.
